Seen with the bull elephant he downed with a single arrow and (insert) at a Hollywood microphone discussing his adventures, Fred Bear is a hunter other hunters listen to. Now, they can listen over and over again to his "Secrets of Hunting."

For years, hunters and other outdoorsmen — both the active and the armchair varieties — have been fascinated by the adventures of a man who has virtually circled the globe to bag the big ones with a bow, a gun or a camera. They have followed his exploits in newspapers and magazines, on radio and television. The man is Fred Bear of Grayling, Michigan. And he has finally found a way to satisfy all those who have asked, "What's your secret?"

Bear's answer is a brand new LP recording appropriately titled "Fred Bear's Secrets Of Hunting."

The idea for the record had been in Bear's mind for a long time. But, besides regarding a microphone as the most frightening thing he'd ever encountered, he'd never been quite able to come up with what he considered a truly workable format. The solution finally came to him one day during the filming of a popular network television sports show.

After a long chat with top

W. Hart with the thought in mind that he'd better get it right, he explained him to tell Gowdy about the idea. He then asked him to ask if he'd be willing to work with him. Curt was, and a date was set for a meeting at a Hollywood recording studio.

The recording date was little more than a continuation of their earlier discussion about hunting and outdoorsmanship.

But, this time, everything that was said was on tape. The tape, edited to the time and place of the recording, is what is currently being offered by sporting goods dealers as "Fred Bear's Secrets Of Hunting."

Assurance of State assistance for construction of the next three buildings of Kirtland Community College has been received from the State of Michigan. The college will receive a total of $750,000 from the State of Michigan and has been authorized to proceed with construction upon final approval of two applications for federal assistance filed by the college. Through the efforts of Senators Toeppe and Richardson and Representatives Swallow and Tisdale these funds have been earmarked to enable the college to move ahead to serve students in this area who are interested in education beyond high school. It is anticipated that Federal funds may be received under either the Higher Education Facilities Act or the Vocational Education Act in an amount sufficient to finance 50% of the cost of constructing the vocational, technical building, the library and the academic building. The college architects, Vander Meiden, Koteles and Associates of Grand Haven, will have completed working drawings early in September so that bids may be taken on those buildings as soon as the Federal Government funding decision is made.

President Van Buskirk stated that the Board of Trustees is hopeful that bids can be let early in the fall in time to pour concrete and begin preliminary construction that will enable the contractors to work through the winter. If this can be accomplished one of the buildings will be completed for occupancy in the fall of 1969. This will give the college two of its buildings for student use in the 1969-70 school year as the first unit now under construction will be finished in the summer of 1970.

the fund-raising campaign by members of the Independent Insurance Agents of Michigan over the $50,000 mark, more than halfway to its goal.

The basic purpose of the endowment is to promote professionalism among career insurance men. Hildebrand Fund resources will be used four ways:

1. For scholarships and fellowships to students in the insurance field.
2. For research relevant to the property and casualty agent or agency function.
3. For honoraria for speakers who lecture on insurance topics at the University.
4. For insurance institutes and clinics sponsored by the University for owners and employees of insurance agencies. Students will be invited to attend sessions in an effort to improve communications between insurance practitioners and the student body.

Hildebrand, who attended the University of Michigan in the 1920s, was an insurance agent for nearly a decade before assuming the management of what was then the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents in 1938. His immediate goal as manager was to elevate the standards of insurance producers the same goal as the present endowment fund. And in 1939 he persuaded the Legislature to adopt a qualification examination for insurance agents, one of the first of its kind in the country.

Hildebrand in 1940 published the first edition of the Michigan Insurance Reference Manual which in updated form is still the basic text for the qualification examination. It was in light of Hildebrand's long-demonstrated commitment to insurance education that his friends decided to honor him and his legacy by establishing the endowment fund which bears his name.

The fund will be administered by the insurance and actuarial science faculty of the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration.

Contributions to the fund are tax-deductible, they should be made payable to the W. O. Hildebrand Endowment Fund and sent to the office of the dean, Graduate School of Business Administration, Ann Arbor 46104.

New Superstitions Still Popping Up

Old superstitions, unlike old soldiers, do not fade away. They are replaced by new superstitions and new misconceptions, says TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

This is particularly true of superstitions and misconceptions about health. New scientific advances and discoveries breed a whole new crop of health superstitions.

Some of the new ones cataloged in the health book are—

Today, we have the mistaken idea that necessary and harmless chemicals used in processing food-stuffs may cause mysterious diseases like cancer. (They won't.)

We see people afraid to cook with aluminum utensils for fear of poisoning the food. (They will not.)

We observe people who refuse to wear glasses, and others who shun much-needed hearing aids. (Both are completely accepted by society today.)

People oppose fluoridation of public water supplies because the same chemical has also been used for poisoning rats, overlooking the fact that the whole difference lies in the matter of dosage. (Fluoridated water is completely safe.)

Many people blame climatic changes on the atomic bomb; past generations attributed such changes to artillery fire, to the use of radio and television. (The bomb has not changed climate.)

Countless mothers live in fear for their children's lives because a heart murmur had been reported. Although murmurs should be checked by a physician most heart murmurs are harmless.

There is still active opposition to the use of immunizing procedures, such as vaccination and immunization, because of superstitious dread of introducing a poison into the system. (The vaccines now in general use are safe.)

There is a modern cult of naturalism which holds that only "natural foods" are wholesome because foods grown with the aid of chemical fertilizers are inadequate. (This isn't true.)

Many harbor prejudices against canned or frozen or otherwise processed foods, and even advocate eating raw food exclusively. (Processing does not affect foods substantially, nor does proper cooking.)

Tools Bells Again

For tens of millions of the nation's youngsters, official closing of summer will be signaled by ringing of the first school bell. In days past, a majority of our people lived in rural areas scattered small towns, that bell often rang in typical one room schoolhouse calling youngsters from the dusty lanes, the fields, the swimming where they worked and played, learned and during the days of summer. Answering its they came to resume, often with considerable distance, the regimentation of school hours and traditional pursuit of at least a passing proxy in the 3 R's. For most people, an education something you got through "when you were a so that you could get on about the business of your way in the world.

The school bells of today carry a far different age and challenge to the nation's present generation of young people. The store of man's knowledge is increasing so rapidly that no one can estimate what it may hold 10 or 20 years from now. In a world, the schoolroom has become, not a place of dull drudgery, but a vital and broadening place of understanding and knowledge spanning present range of man's accomplishments and opening the young people of today the capacity to find a future beyond our present imagination. Our young people have a new enthusiasm for education, and this is our greatest national asset. They must learn of our heritage and the roots of freedom, as well as the wonders of our technological accomplishment and capacity. As they return to school this fall, they deserve all the encouragement and opportunity which we can give them.

SEASON AT ALMA

ALMA — Eddie Robertson of Grayling is one of the 45 veterans of Alma College's undefeated 1967 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) football champions who will begin 1968 drills the first week of September.

Robertson, a 6 ft. 180-pound defensive end, played high school football at Grayling. A senior at Alma, Eddie has been a three year regular at defensive end. He must have a strong year or defense will have a trouble spot.

Are You An Alcoholic?

Are you an alcoholic? If your answer is "I don't know," answer the following questions either yes or no:

1. Have you ever tried to stop drinking for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?
2. Do you resent the advice of others who try to get you to stop drinking?
3. Have you ever tried to control your drinking by switching from one alcoholic beverage to another?
4. Have you taken a morning drink during the past year?
5. Do you envy people who can drink without getting into trouble?
6. Has your drinking problem become progressively more serious during the past year?
7. Has your drinking created problems at home?
8. At social affairs where drinking is limited, do you try to obtain "extra" drinks?
9. Despite evidence to the contrary, have you continued to assert that you can stop drinking "on your own" whenever you wish?
10. During the past year have you missed time from work as a result of drinking?
11. Have you ever "blacked out," during your drinking?
12. Have you ever felt you could do more with your life if you did not drink?

What's your score? Did you answer YES four or more times? If so, chances are you have a serious drinking problem, or may have one in the future.

These questions were prepared by Alcoholics Anonymous World Services, Inc., who base them on the experience of tens of thousands of recovered alcoholics.

"Alcoholics Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others to recover from alcoholism."

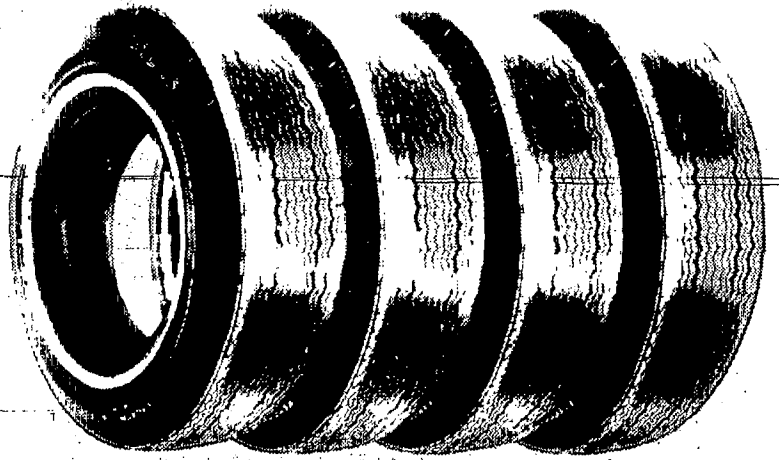

"The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop drinking. There are no dues or fees for A.A. membership; they are self-supporting through their own contributions. A.A. is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization or institution; does not wish to engage in any controversy; neither endorses nor opposes any causes. Their primary purpose is to stay sober and help other alcoholics to achieve sobriety."

No one can tell someone else he has a drinking problem; this is something you can only tell yourself.

If you are interested in meeting with this organization every Thursday evening at the City Hall, phone 348-4581. 15-22-29-5

Let there be light

No one enjoys stumbling around in the dark... but that's probably the way most of us feel sometimes. The Bible tells of men whose lives were illumined by spiritual light which guided them to higher achievements.

This light of spiritual understanding is still present to enlighten our lives today, to make living a joyous experience.

You are invited to come to this lecture by Edward C. Williams, C.S.B., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Mr. Williams will cite specific instances of the way in which people today are being guided and transformed by God's clear spiritual direction.

Admission is free. All are welcome.

V. F. W. POST 3736

Notice to all members and former members, also to any interested Veteran who may be eligible, there was an election and installation of new officers, and now we are trying to get going again. Officers for 1968-69 are as follows: Commander, Harold Hatfield, Jr.; senior vice-commander, William Higbee; junior vice-commander Harvey Bourque; chaplain Paul Henion; adjutant and quartermaster, Calvin Knowles.

There is help from the Department for all meetings. We have a few ideas that it is believed will help the Post. Would appreciate hearing any and all ideas. Let's air them on the floor.

At present there are 5 members for 1968, and it is hoped that by the next meeting night we have at least 12.

Getting a rack made for rifles, also hope to have an altar stand soon. One of our good members is doing this for the Post at no charge.

The next meeting will be September 11 at 8 p. m. in the Council Room of City Hall. Let's give our new commander a house full and find out a little as to what is being planned for the future.

Also are collecting dues for 1969.

COUNTY DELEGATES ATTEND STATE G.O.P. CONVENTION

Crawford County G. O. P. chairman, Leo Lovely, and delegates Bruce Benson, Earl Clore, and alternate, Mrs. Clore, attended the Michigan Republican Convention in Grand Rapids this past weekend. Tom Koernke of Lovells accompanied them.

Highlighting the convention Saturday morning was an inspiring speech by Governor Spiro Agnew, G.O.P. vice-presidential candidate. The local delegation was impressed with his sincere and vigorous approach to the causes of social justice and restoration of law and order. He stressed that we must have both for the good of the country.

The Tenth district, which includes Crawford County, was conspicuous on the convention floor wearing badges displaying the words, The Titanic Tenth. The convention reflected a determination on the part of all the delegates to work as a team, directed by Governor George Romney, to obtain complete victory for the entire G. O. P. slate in November.

"Exploring the Wonderful World of 4-H" is the theme of Michigan's 1968 State 4-H Show to be held on the Michigan State University campus Aug. 20-23.

Over 3,500 4-H teenagers, representing every Michigan county, will participate in the four-day event. According to Merrill Lacasso, extension 4-H youth agent for Crawford and Roscommon counties, the state show is designed as an educational experience for members, their parents and leaders.

The 4-Hers will have the opportunity to demonstrate their skills in "action" exhibits, participate in educational events and compete in areas ranging from livestock fitting and showing to automotive skills.

Tours of the Michigan horticultural industry, the State Capitol Building, Michigan State University research facilities, and other places will provide further learning experiences.

In addition, outstanding 4-H members will be chosen as Michigan representatives to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Clover awards will be given to deserving leaders, and distinguished alumni will be honored.

Attending from Crawford County were: Pam Peterson, 2305 Marshall Street, Grayling, in Senior Miss Dress Reveal and clothing demonstration; Dalene Peterson, of the same address observing and reporting in horticulture programs; Polly Jensen, Hartwick Pines, Grayling, participating in Junior Miss Luncheon; Mary Liz McNamara, 505 Peninsular, Grayling, observing and reporting on State 4-H Chorus activities; Mrs. Joseph Tyron, Clough Drive, Grayling, leader volunteer to assist at State Show.

Plant Trees For Shade And Beauty

By Willard Bossorman
County Extension Natural Resource Agent

After the builders finish building a home there are some spots where a tree would enhance the appearance of the property. In fact a tree might just fill the bill in some spot near a home that has been in service a number of years. Perhaps to replace an older tree that has given up the ghost. Who hasn't lost an elm tree to Dutch Elm disease?

Some trees that are hardy and desirable for northern Michigan are the spruce, red and white pine. Up here where trees are abundant people tend to bypass the nursery, however, it is against the law to transport trees or shrubbery with the roots attached without an inspection from the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Some strong desirable deciduous trees are Norway and sugar maples, red and pin oaks. Some small trees are flowering crab apple, American mountain ash, clump birch. The deciduous trees and spruce require a better soil than many of our sandy soils we have in the area.

When setting out a tree dig the hole two feet larger than the root ball, and deep enough so the tree will be at the same level as in the nursery—plus about 1 foot for top soil in the bottom of the hole. Fill the hole around the tree with a good sandy loam or loam top soil.

It is important to keep it well watered. Soaking the soil once or twice a week is better than putting just a little water on each day.

Now until the end of October is a good time to set out trees.

WHEREAS: Firearms control bills introduced into the National Congress have provisions requiring registration and licensing of all firearms in the United States with no exceptions: Specifically, Senate Bill 3604 (Dodd) and Senate Bill 364 (Tydings);

AND WHEREAS: The above bills require a license of ownership or transfer of any firearm or ammunition, and that application for owners license must include a photo and fingerprints of the applicant;

AND WHEREAS: Terms of Senate Bill 3604 (Dodd) would require the registration of all firearms in the nation under a system to be established by the Secretary of the Treasury and that said registration would commence 90 days after enactment during a six-month registration period;

AND WHEREAS: The Crawford County Board of Supervisors believes that any national or state registration aimed at crime should be against the criminal; and further, that there is no proof that gun registration would prevent a crime of any kind, and registration would require expenditures of large sums of money for enforcement at the federal, state and local level;

"Head The Avalanche"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

August 9, 1968

Santiago, Chile

Dear Mr. Madison:

In this letter I would like to show my appreciation to the people of Grayling by telling them of my summer in Chile. I would be very thankful if you would share this letter with them by publishing it in the Crawford County Avalanche.

I guess the best place to start would be at the beginning. I arrived in Santiago, Chile on the second day of July. At the airport I had my first meeting with my new Chilean parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Solari. I was very happy to find that I also had two brothers and two sisters. My father is employed at the Ministry of Defense where he is a general in the Chilean Air Force. My mother, Lucy, is kept busy with homemaking in her beautiful home. I then have a brother, Ricardo. He is 21 years of age and is attending the University of Technology. He is also a part time employee in an office concerned with engineering. My next brother is Fernando. He is twenty years old and is studying electronics engineering at the University of Technology. Jimena is my 17 year old sister. She attends St. John's Academy for Girls. Last but not least, I have a sister Maria Veronica, who is 10 years old. Maria Veronica attends the same school as Jimena.

I live with my family in a very beautiful home of Spanish decor in Vitacura, a subdivision of Santiago. Santiago is a very large city and also the capital of Chile. It is inhabited by over three million people. Although Santiago is quite modern it is still possible to see the antique Chile in some parts.

The most outstanding characteristic of Chile is the Andes Mountains. You could never begin to imagine the beauty and magnificence they hold. At this time Chile is in the winter season, but because of the drought (the worst in 120 years) there has been no snow or rain in the mountains. The climate is quite dry and the temperature is close to that of our late autumn.

Here in Santiago I was fortunate enough to be able to visit the New York Art Exhibit, "Cezanne a Miro," at the Museum of Modern Art in Santiago. Besides visiting other museums, I have been to "La Moneda" which is the president's house, Santa Lucia Hill, which is where Pedro Valdivia to that of our late autumn.

phers Hill (a park and shrine) and the United Nations building. These are only a few of the places I've seen so you can imagine how busy I am. Not only have I seen many things in Santiago but I have also traveled to other cities. Of these the most interesting was Maipu, where the Chilean independence was won.

During my stay in Chile, I attend the North American-Chilean Institute of Culture for history in Spanish and Chilean history and geography. These classes are especially designed for the exchange students by the Youth for Understanding organization.

Of course the food and customs of Chile are different from our own. Perhaps the most difficult to adjust to are the meal hours and language. Breakfast is very light; lunch is just the opposite and is served at one o'clock; tea is served at five o'clock and dinner at nine o'clock.

This is just a few of the things I thought you would be interested in. There are so many more things I want to share with you but I'll have to wait until I arrive home.

At this time I wish to express my appreciation to a number of friends and neighbors in Grayling for making my summer in Chile the most wonderful of all.

I hope you have enjoyed my letter as much as I have enjoyed sharing my summer with you.

Sincerely Yours, Candace Pond

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

BY C. WILSON HARD

Let Age Emancipation

The American public, just getting accustomed to female mailmen instead of all-male mailmen, may soon have to adjust to a new breed of airline stewardess.

The U. S. Equal Opportunity Commission has ruled that airlines cannot, under the Civil Rights Act of 1964, discriminate by sex in hiring personnel to serve passengers. They must hire qualified male applicants, the Commission said.

So just when mini-skirts and stylish wardrobes have become airline essentials and businessmen are avidly competing for aisle seats, a rude awakening is in store for the jet traveller.

The airlines unsuccessfully argued that sex should be an occupational qualification for the stewardess job, but the Commission said duties "can be satisfactorily performed by members of both sexes."

The Commission obviously didn't listen to any testimony from businessmen.

The issue was brought up by four disgruntled young men who were denied jobs as cabin stewards. Presumably, they will be the first of a "new breed" something like the first boys to enroll in a girls' school.

The Commission also has pending more than 100 complaints from stewards who claim airlines have special rules for them alone, such as, compulsory retirement when they marry or reach a certain age.

A new Federal law banning a National Federation of Independent Business discrimination because in hiring or promotion effective June 12. So, like any matter of the airlines must hire female and matronly oddities "Coffee, tea or milk."

Airlines may be for change their policies, low present stewardesses stay on the job until the grandmothers.

It is doubtful that any Congressman who yells either the Civil Rights Act or the Age Discrimination Act would be so naive as to believe that the laws of such nature are interpreted by boards and commissions of government in ways which astound the legislators who wrote the laws.

Job emancipation has really in the past few years been a very real thing. Many of the female complain that routes are long and the bags too heavy and most don't like the uniforms.

The Wall Street Journal said that male mailmen complain that mailmen use wives to con men into some of their chores. They don't carry their share of load," said one male ex-plainer who said that if a woman lift a heavy mail, he usually ends up doing half of it for her.

It's getting hard enough tell the boys from the without the government to the confusion.

SALE OF STATE OIL AND GAS LEASE RIGHTS HITS RECORD

LANSING — Petroleum interests bid a record $1,123,000 for state oil and gas lease rights offered in 24 northern Lower Michigan counties at a recent two-week public sale held in Lansing by the Conservation Department.

The sale, largest in the Department's history, brought bids for 546,000 acres from among 583,000 acres that were up for leasing. Both the sale's acreage and bonus bid figures top the previous high set in 1962 when
state oil and gas lease rights drew $311,000 in bid payments covering 255,000 acres.

Bids at the latest public auction averaged a new high of $2.05 per acre as against $1.22 in 1962.

Triggering the last two weeks of bullish bidding at the sale was a wildcat strike last spring in Presque Isle County. That discovery, in turn, spurred geological tests which bore promising petroleum prospects in other counties of the northern Lower Peninsula.

The spreading exploratory interest prompted the oil and gas industry to request the record state offering and it resulted in lands being leased in all 24 northern counties.

Biggest play for state oil and gas lease rights centered in Cheboygan, Oscego, Antrim, Kalkaska, Montmorency, and Grand Traverse counties.

Major bidders were the Pan American Petroleum Corporation of Fort Worth with a figure of $455,755 and the Shell Oil Company of Denver which cast bonus payments totaling $278-102.

An estimated 85 to 90 percent of the total bonus bid receipts will go into the State's General Fund. The remainder will be credited to Michigan's Game and Fish Protection Fund to compensate for leasing of lands purchased with its monies.

Nancy Rae Fenton became the bride of Joseph P. Renaud, Saturday, Aug. 17, in the Methodist Church, Rev. J. C. Butler officiating at the wedding ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fenton of Lake Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Renaud of Chestnut St., Grayling.

Given in marriage by her father, Nancy chose a gown of Schiffler embroidered silk organza, fashioned with lace banded bracelet sleeves, a bateau neckline and a cage floor length skirt. A Venice lace - banded cathedral length mantilla of silk illusion completed her attire and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Attending the bride were Miss Carol Jane Fenton, a sister of the bride, and Miss Marie Church, Grayling. They chose orange sateen gowns with floating back panels edged with lace and matching headresses. They carried corsages of wheat sheaves with croton foliage, fern and various colors of pom poms.

Best man was David Pettyjohn, and groomsmen were Gary Pettyjohn and Walter Isenhauer, Grayling. Ushers were Roy D. Wedge Jr., Manistique, and Roger Nelson, Ann Arbor.

The bride's mother wore a pink nylon lace shift with taffeta and matching accessories and a corsage of deep pink tea roses. The groom's mother wore a beige taffeta sheath with brown chiffon coat and matching accessories, with yellow tea rose corsage.

Mrs. Arthur Feldhauser presided at the organ and sang "I Love Thee" and "Our Wedding Prayer."

A reception was held in the church parlors for some 125 guests. A friend, Miss Thelma Bailey of Saginaw, and a cousin, Mrs. Margaret Goldthorpe of McMillan, cut the cake. Serving coffee were Mrs. James F. Goldthorpe, an aunt, and Miss Gloria Jean Goldthorpe, a cousin both of McMillan. Serving punch were Miss Christine Carlson, Grayling, and Miss Sandra Hull of Ithaca. At the gift table were Miss Sheryl Lindenberg and mother of Akron, Mich. Miss Karen Wedge of Grayling presided at the registration table.

After the reception the new Mr. and Mrs. Renaud left on a Northern wedding trip. On their return Nancy will continue her duties at Mercy Hospital and Joe will return to Adak, Alaska, where he has been stationed the past seven months.

For her going away trip Nancy wore a silk brown and yellow print dress with a yellow coat lined with the same material as the dress and matching accessories. A corsage of white carnations tied with brown ribbon completed her attire.

Both Nancy and Joe are 1966 graduates of Grayling High School. Nancy graduated from Ferris State College June 16, 1968, on a secretarial course. Guests from out of town were from Roscommon, Frederic, Lovells, Kalkaska, Taylor, St. Louis, Dearborn, McMillan, Ann Arbor, Rockford, Bay City, Saginaw, Alma Muskegon and San Jose, Calif.

Thanks...

To the Frederic people and to our many friends far and near that have contributed to make our new building a reality.

We welcome a visit from you.
